“ I remember as a child going to Uncle Daniel and Aunt Janet's house was always such fun. They had cousins our age to play with and the California weather and it seemed like all the latest bikes to ride. There was always good food to eat, beautiful music to sing along with, funny stories told and most of all a warm and welcoming feeling in their home. I did not know that later as an adult I would move to California and go visit them often in Northern California as well. It was the same great family fun and always something happening at their house. It was always amazing to hear my father and all of his brothers sing together at family reunions. The brothers chorus will just not be the same now without Daniel's beautiful voice. I will miss Uncle Daniel and his great smile and loving way. I imagine him with Aunt Janet again after 13 years of being apart. My love to all of their children and grandchildren and great grandchildren who will feel a void without him.

“ Dan Beus was our home teacher for several years not too long ago. Our kids loved it when he came. He always had a message prepared that young children could understand and find interesting. And he would sing to us with that beautiful voice of his. We were so blessed to have him in our home each month, and he will always be on our hearts. Thanks for all you gave us, Dan!
