“ I enjoyed our visits and loved chatting with Dolpha. She always had my back and would tell her friends about how we tragically lost our son, Scotty. A few years ago she let me choose one of her precious figurines to remember Scotty by. It warmed my heart. She loved those and wanted me to have a special one of hers to honor Scotty. She was smart and witty and so fun for my grandkids to visit too! Dolpha was on a dating panel for the teenage youth in our stake about 3 years ago. She had a lot of good wisdom to offer and was hilarious!!
I miss you already, Dolpha and your darling accent! I'm sure you're feeling good in heaven and so happy with all your precious ones there! Love you, friend,

“ I knew Dolpha as a student at BYU when I was working at Audio Visual Services, she was the manager of the scheduling desk (I worked in the film inspection area). She was a delight to work with. I remember each day she would take a handful of supplements, I guess they worked for her, since she is the last of those women who worked together at AVS to pass away. It brings back many memories to think of those times.
