“ Joyce was such a dear friend of ours. When we first moved to Lindon, Larry was the High Priest Group leader and he welcomed us the first day on our driveway. Joyce was there soon with her wonderful sweet rolls.

We enjoyed many long years of friendship. They knew who it was when they would hear a knock on their back patio door in the evenings. I loved just sitting and visiting with them.

Joyce taught me how to sew quilt blocks, hot pads, curtains, etc. She sewed curtains for my kitchen and bedroom. She sewed beautiful dresses for our granddaughters at our youngest daughter's wedding. She was a wonderful cook and I have so many of her recipes. We loved to put dinners together for neighbors.

We went on trips to Tuacahn and the canyons. We exercised together at 5:30 AM at Curves.

She taught me what it meant to honor the Sabbath day in how she worshipped, dressed, and conducted herself.

Most of all, she taught me what it meant to love others, her family and our Savior, Jesus Christ.

“ Joyce was an “elected lady “. I had the great pleasure of working with her in a Relief Society Presidency. She even taught us how to make saltine crackers - plus many, many more useful things. She sewed draperies for how home in Murray and we have a grandson and his beautiful family. Rest In Peace beautiful lady. Marie Davis. PS I had back sut3 weeks ago and will be unable to attend funeral services.

“ Joyce was a pleasure for me to know. A truly gracious, generous and kind soul who loved and served everyone. Her big heart and broad smile will be sorely missed. Until we meet again, dear lady! See you a little later.

“ Talk about an angel on earth...Joyce personified grace and selflessness. I married into the most wonderful family and was blessed with the best mother-in-law ever! She had such a gift at making you feel welcome and part of the family. Her Sunday dinners were legendary. What fun to watch her get enthusiastically lost in competitive gameplay. I will miss your kindness, sense of humor, and big, beautiful smile.

“ Grandma has always made me smile and has helped me become the man I am today. I'll always remember playing games with her and how even hours after the game ended she'd think of all the different ways she could have played differently :)
