“ I went to school with Lynn. I always remember his sense of humor. The Young men in their trench coats and Sun glasses. Those were the days. He will be missed.

“ Lynn and I were in the same school class for 9 years. We were also in the same ward for that long or longer. We attended all of the same things. Lynn was happy and fun to be around. He was always willing to participate in activities. I am so sad to hear that he has passed on. He was a good friend.

“ Lynn grew up in the Ririe 2nd Ward in Ririe, Idaho. He was also a neighbor, and friends with my nephew. What a fine young man he was, always doing what's right. He was way to young for this to happen to him. I will always remember what a wonderful young man he was. I send my thoughts and prayers to the family.

“ Lynn and I served together in the Park 11th bishopric. He quietly went about doing the Lord's work and was truly without guile. The Holy Spirit always accompanied his comments on important things. He was a great man that I hope to be more like.

“ I am so sad to hear of Lynn's death. I always appreciated his smile, sense of humor and commitment to family. He was a hard worker who persevered through life's obstacles. Though I won't be able to make it to his funeral, I'll be keeping him and the Reed clan in my thoughts and prayers.

“ Lynn will be missed. He had a way of making anyone feel special. Kind words, a smile, a hug. Lynn was a few years younger than me but we still played together with the rest of the Reed cousins every 4th of July. I think I grew to know him more when older and on college. One summer we went to a few church dances and had fun being goofy and enjoying the company of being not only cousins but friends. I love ya ,Lynn. Keep a watch over the rest of us here. May you continue your work in Heaven. I look forward to seeing your smile again soon.

“ I didn't spend much time with Lynn. I was only 4 years old when he graduated from high school. But, we shared the same wonderful grandmother. All of my memories of him are from when he would bring his little family to visit Grandma. We would sit together in her front room and just chat. I could tell he really loved her, and because of that I love him. They were so nice, and I really admired him. I am proud to be his cousin. I also remember how much Grandma loved him. She always had nice things to say about him and his family.
