May 27, 1964 - August 12, 2017

Quinn Jay Haddock, son of Elaine Carlton Haddock and Ian Grove Haddock, born May 27, 1964 in Citrus Heights, California and died August 12, 2017 in Provo, Utah after a sudden illness. His designs enabled dozens of different disk drives providing employment for many thousands of people manufacturing these products around the world. Later in his career, Quinn became a systems/firmware engineer, enabling leading edge data storage products. Quinn received numerous awards and patents for his creative design work and was a mentor throughout his career, helping many younger engineers learn how to analyze and solve complex problems.

He attended elementary and junior high school in Citrus Heights, California, Dixon Junior High, Timpview High School, and Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah; graduating with a BS in Mechanical Engineering. Quinn served a mission for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints to the Argentina Buenos Aires South Mission, September 1983-1985. Quinn had a strong testimony of the restored gospel of Jesus Christ and served tirelessly in many capacities.

He loved his family and had a great interest in water sports, BYU volleyball, football, wrestling, and the outdoors.

Surviving him are his wife, children, and grandchild as well as his brothers, Rex Haddock (Carol), Reed Haddock (Sandra), Kevan Haddock (Lizbeth), Keith Haddock, and his mother, Elaine Carlton Haddock Rowley. He is preceded in death by his father, Ian Grove Haddock.

“ Dear Tandy, Jordan, Stephen, Ryker, Tambre, Lacey and Lindy:

I send my deepest condolences and all of my thoughts and prayers to your family during this time of abject sorrow and feelings of loss, but also, remembrances.

Although Quinn was significantly younger than me, he was an amazing spiritual mentor, guiding me with his love, humility and strength. I loved his quiet, wry sense of humor, intelligence, and common-sense advice. He was a “gentleman” in every sense of the word!

I can empathize with your heartbreak, because I have lost my father, mother, two brothers, a sister, a father-in-law and two brothers-in-law over time. However, with your amazing family, through your individual and collective integrity, character and love, you will continue Quinn’s legacy exponentially. His memory will continue for all of us through you!

May Heavenly Father POUR out all of His love, comfort and support during this most difficult, trying time.

Know that I love all of you.

“ I worked with Quinn my entire career at both Maxtor and then Seagate. Quinn was truly one of the best technical minds in the business and one of the kindest people I have ever known. He will be sorely and immediately missed. Quinn and his family remain in my thoughts and prayers and I will always remember the times we had together.

“ Tandy and crew, When we moved across the street, Quinn was right there to help out. There was a set of bad directions given to him as he held a big old TV....down the stairs and then back up and up another set. We laughed afterwards.

However, what we remember most is sitting in Sunday School and listening to both you, Tandy and Quinn's heartfelt answers to a lot of great questions that touched us greatly.

“ Quinn and I had a great adventure as missionary companions in the Argentine pampa town of Chacabuco. We appeared on local TV, radio, and newspaper. Quinn even broke out the "laminas" (discussion slides) on TV. We had the only bikes in the mission and rode hundreds of miles in all weather. He always did the right thing and we had great success. “ Shocked and grieved to hear the news. I came to know Quinn towards the end of my working life when I joined Maxtor. The passing away of a saintly man like him is a huge loss not only to his immediate family but to all whose lives he touched with his kindness and unwavering support. On top of everything Quinn was one of the most humble experts I know. And I happen to believe that he was a true genius in his fields of work. He will be long remembered for his many significant contributions.

“ I remember moving into the Ward, and being afraid of Quinn...funny to think back on that now, because I had the opportunity to work with him. He calling me into his office to extend a new calling, he told me four or five times that he felt strongly, and the Lord felt strongly that I needed to be there. I loved his energy and desire to do the Lord's work. I learn from his counsel and guidance as I tried to do my calling. Quinn wanted everyone to learn and work hard, to provide their own needs, He is a great man, with a great love of the Lord and his family. He taught me that family is first, even in the church, family is our number one priority and we need to always remember that. He will be missed, but I know he is preparing for the future, till we meet again! Thank you for a great example of love, kindness, strength, devotion, and friendship! Prayers and much love from the other side of the Rockies, “ Deepest condolences on this tragic event. Almost 20 years ago, Quinn was my mentor at a small company called Maxtor. He taught me a lot - about engineering & life. We have all been blessed to have known him all these years and for the opportunity to work with him. We will miss him deeply. He showed us the value of perseverance and how never to give up. Somewhere - Quinn is grinning - and saying "Ok, let's get back to work".....

Thank you to his family for sharing Quinn with us.

“ I am shocked and deeply saddened to hear of Quinn's passing. I have been a close working companion of Quinn's for the last 5 years or so. Living in two different locations, we chatted daily. I had the utmost respect for him as an engineer, a community leader, and most of all, a family man. We exchanged lots of stories with regards to school sports and the activities our kids were involved in. He was very proud of his family and rightfully so.

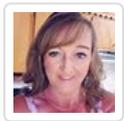

Quinn's dedication to the team at Seagate was also unshakable. Seems no matter how difficult things got, he was always able to put a positive spin on the situation and look forward to find a solution. He would work tirelessly to all hours of the day and night, driving one or more projects to completion so he could move on to others. I truly don't know when he found time to sleep. Perhaps he didn't.

Although our relationship was long distance, I counted Quinn as a good friend and confidant. I recall of one occasion where he told me he was taking the weekend off to go to the lake with his family. I told him that sounded good and asked what time I needed to be there. On that comment, he invited me to come along if I could make it, and the funny thing is, he wasn't kidding. I will miss him dearly and can't even imagine what the family must be going through. Hopefully you will find peace in knowing that he is in a better place, and that one day, you will all be together again.

Please accept my condolences on your great loss.

In brotherly love,
Ron Edgar

“ Tandy, first of all whenever you read this please know "I love you right where you're at." Secondly, I know there are no words of comfort for you at this time. There is a pain so deep that it rattles you to your core. Just know all you need to do is make it through this second and eventually each of those seconds will become minutes, those minutes hours and those hours days (but not all at once). Take as many seconds as you need, don't worry about the next one it will come when you are ready. You are surrounded by a circle of love and just remember when you feel alone I'm here if you ask - to just sit with you, to cry with you or even to throw rocks. You are in my thoughts. Hugs from Colorado.

“ Tandy and the Haddock family,
I am so sorry to learn of Quinn's passing.

Quinn was a friend and colleague and one of the smartest and most gifted people that I have ever met. He was caring and generous and was always willing to help out wherever and whenever he could. He was a dedicated and proud family man with a solid moral compass and high standards of integrity. He will be sorely missed.

May God provide peace and comfort in this time of sorrow.
