

Scott Allen

April 6, 1984 - April 12, 2016

Scott Stewart Allen, age 32, passed away at the University of Utah Hospital in Salt Lake City, Utah on April 12, 2016. He was surrounded by his family as he moved on to his next adventure. Scott's untimely death was caused by acute myeloid leukemia and a subsequent brain hemorrhage. He was taken from this life just five short weeks after being diagnosed.

Scott was born April 6, 1984 in Provo, Utah. Scott lived in Orem, Utah for the majority of his childhood and youth. He served an LDS proselyting mission in Salvador, Brazil. Scott graduated from Brigham Young University with a B. S. in Environmental Science, and then from Vermont Law School with a Juris Doctorate. He then moved back to Utah and joined his brother's Salt Lake City law firm as an attorney. Scott's legal expertise was in national marketing compliance and litigation.

Scott's passion was traveling and exploring abroad. He went with his high school environmental science class to Costa Rica. He completed a BYU Study Abroad semester in New Zealand and then visited in Australia. He studied law during one summer in Cairo, Egypt; and interned another summer at a law clinic in Johannesburg, South Africa. Scott traveled with his father on an adventure to Nicaragua, and several times to Mexico. He also was able to tour in Paris (mid-route to other places). Scott had wished to be able to go to Antarctica some day, so that he would have been on all seven continents.

Scott loved playing games of all sorts with family members and friends, and somehow managed to win most of the time. Risk and Scrabble were some of his favorites. Scott was very supportive of family and friends. During the last several years of his life while living in the Salt Lake Valley, Scott had the opportunity to be roommates with each of his siblings and their families at different time periods. This led to powerful sibling bonds being forged. His siblings are very grateful they had the opportunity to spend so much close time with him as adults. Scott was talented at interacting with his nieces and nephews, and was referred to by some of them simply as "Uncle."

Scott is survived by his parents, Phil and Judy Allen; his brother Eric (Kareema), his sister Heidi (Daniel) Greaves; and his brother Luke. He is survived by his maternal grandparents, Jay and Rosmarie Schneider. His paternal grandparents, Philo and Dixie Allen are deceased.

Scott will be deeply missed.

“ I remember some fun childhood visits to the Allens. Mindy and I loved playing with Eric and Scott, and think it was always an adventure with them. They dared us to jump off bunk beds, introduced us Legos for the time, and showed us the "skill" of crushing a soda can with their shoulder blades, although I don't know if it ever worked. Eric was Mindy's special buddy, and Scott was mine. I smile when thinking of these memories with Scott.

“ I met Scott at a FHE activity in the Holladay singles ward last fall. He seemed pretty nice. But what I remember in particular was last fall when the new church policy was sent out last fall about the homosexual children not being able to get baptized until 18. And I hate to admit it, but I was a little bothered by it. But quickly got over it, but right after that we were at church and Scott went up in testimony meeting. And basically talked about following the prophet and little policy changes won't take you off course if you do that. So I remember that because I had just decided that the day before. But just left a pretty good impression that he was very spiritual, which is one of the most important things in life.

I also gratefully remember that testimony from Scott, which left its impression on me.

During this last Christmas season, Scott was a welcome addition to the bass section of the ward choir in sacrament meeting, which I think was the result of losing(?) a game of some sort. :)

“ I met Scott at a guess who is coming to dinner activity in the ward. He was so fun to talk to and seemed to be such a genuine happy guy. I am grateful that I got the chance to talk to him and get to know him a little better. I know he has such a great work to do where he is, his kindness will touch many lives.

“ I met Scott when I sat next to him on his first week attending the Holladay Single Adult ward last spring. I was instantly impressed by his kind eyes and capable demeanor. I could tell he was self motivated and desired to be a good man - no doubt thanks to the example of his parents. I miss him. God bless his friends and family.

“ My thoughts and prayers go out to the Allen family. Scott was a well traveled and amazing man...but no surprise there, as the apple doesn't fall too far from the tree. Scott, like Dr. Phil, has touched so many lives...and the strong faith and inspiration that has been shared over these past weeks has moved so many of us! Love to all of you!

“ Phil, we are so sorry for your loss. Our family has been praying for Scott and your entire family since this began. Your strength and faith has been an inspiration for us and that is the kind of thing that makes you so wonderful. In your difficult time you were lifting all of us up. I love you and will continue to pray for your healing.

“ Dear Allen Family,

We send our deepest, heartfelt sympathies for the pain of losing Scott so early in life. It was a delight to watch him grow up, play sports and become such a great young man. We admire all he accomplished, and we know you are very proud of him.

One day we will have, as Phil puts it, "The Answers." Till then, please know of our love and his love and the love of our Father in Heaven for your family.

May you feel Scott close by now and then, letting you know that all is well with him. And may you feel peace, even through the tears.

*Our love to your family,
Asa and Karla Nielson and family*

Dear Phil and Judy and family,

To all of you, we want to let you know we sense there are hardly words to express what we feel, but our hearts yearn to comfort you. Even during our many prayers for you we have felt the Lord's presence connecting us all. Scott's legacy of love and friendship will continue. His smile and tender affections will continue in your hearts. We love you all, and know that Heavenly Father's gracious mercy will attend, will lift, and will provide the sublime peace that Scott would have you feel.
